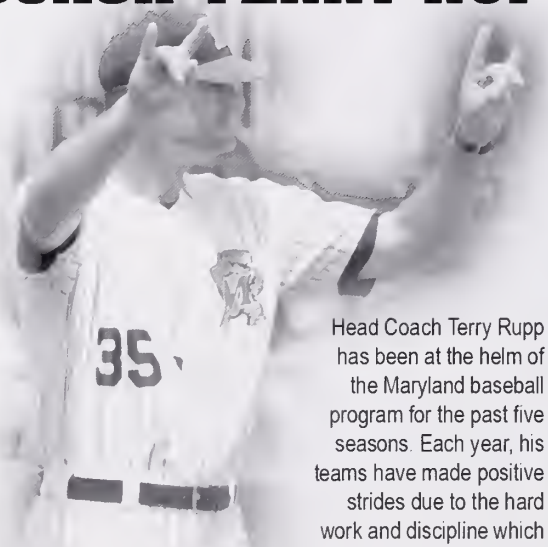
THIS IS MARYLAND BASEBALL

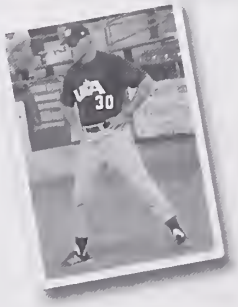
TEAM CONCEPT

The cornerstone of the Terrapin baseball program is a strong team concept. At Maryland, individual players come together as one solid group in order to achieve the same goal: success.

COACH TERRY RUPP



Head Coach Terry Rupp has been at the helm of the Maryland baseball program for the past five seasons. Each year, his teams have made positive strides due to the hard work and discipline which he instills in his players.



RUPP WITH TEAM USA

In the summer of 2002, Head Coach Terry Rupp served as an assistant coach with Team USA Baseball. Rupp toured with the squad on its summer Red, White and Blue Tour, before helping the Stars & Stripes capture the Honkbal Classic Championship in The Netherlands and the silver medal at the FISU World University Baseball Championship

ROAD TO THE PROS

Following the 2005 baseball season, Justin Maxwell (below left), Truan Mehl, Michael Meagher and Chris Clem joined the growing list of Terps who have signed professional baseball contracts after playing under Terry Rupp. Over the past nine amateur drafts, 20 of Rupp's players have been selected by major league clubs. This recent crop of freshly-minted pros joins John McCurdy, Kevin Hart, Eric Milton (Cincinnati Reds) and Steve Schmoll (New York Mets) as Terps currently playing pro ball.

A preseason All-American and true five-tool talent, Maxwell was selected by his hometown Washington Nationals in the fourth round of the 2005 draft. Rapidly working his way through the club's farm system, Maxwell was recently named the organization's Best Athlete by Baseball America. Though injuries forced him to miss most of his last two seasons at Maryland, Maxwell shined whenever he was on the field, displaying a rare breed of power and speed. In seven games last year, he hit .455 with three home runs, five RBI and five stolen bases. As a sophomore in 2003, his last full season as a Terp, he hit .317 with 10 home runs, 11 steals and 43 RBIs in 55 games.

Mehl was recently chosen with the 19th pick of the 30th round by the Texas Rangers. In 2005, the speedy outfielder led the Terps with a .345 average and 82 hits and finished second on the team with 114 total bases, a .397 on-base percentage and 13 stolen bases. In 54 games for the Rangers' Arizona League club, Mehl batted .320 with 33 RBI and 27 stolen bases and compiled a .403 OBP.

Following the 2005 NCAA season, Meagher and Clem teamed up once again, this time for the New Jersey Cardinals of the New York-Penn League. Meagher was taken by the St. Louis Cardinals in the 43rd round and saw limited action for their Class A Short-Season affiliate. Clem, Maryland's all-time leader in innings pitched, went 1-2 with a 5.57 ERA in 32.1 innings of work for the Cardinals.

SEASON OUTLOOK

TERPS LOOK FOR SUCCESS WITH "SMALL BALL" PHILOSOPHY.

Following a season in which University of Maryland sluggers gave chase to a variety of offensive records, head coach Terry Rupp and the 2006 Terrapins have changed gears and rededicated themselves, this time with a new focus on speed, fundamentals, sound defense and the game of "small ball."

Featuring one of the deepest lineups during Rupp's tenure in College Park, the Terps will concentrate on the finer points of the game as they look to make a name for themselves in one of the best baseball conferences in the nation.

"We've worked extremely hard at playing smart baseball throughout the fall," Rupp says. "We are going to focus on moving runners and not be a team that only goes station to station. The team is going to make things happen offensively and keep the pressure on our opponents"

The Terps will look to utilize their depth this season. Rupp believes this is one of the most versatile squads he has had in his six years at Maryland and he wants to take full advantage of it.

"Unlike in past years, we are deep at every position. There is a young group of guys coming in who are going to bring some energy and create some depth among the positions players," Rupp notes. "We've got an opportunity to use a different combination of players to attack any situation. If an opponent doesn't catch-and-throw that well, we'll go with our speed. On the other hand, if they are a strong defensive team, then we may go with our best hitters. I can see a lot of different guys making significant contributions this season."

Maryland will get the opportunity to test its game plan against some of the best competition in the country. This season the Atlantic Coast Conference figures to be extremely competitive from top to bottom, and has a legitimate shot at sending as many as seven teams to the NCAA Tournament. With the addition of Boston College this year, the stakes become even higher as the Terps look to improve on last season's 10th place league finish. Maryland is slated to play five teams ranked in Baseball America's preseason top 25 poll.

"Our schedule does not give us any breaks, especially early on. We wanted it that way to get our guys ready for conference play," Rupp says.

With a blend of seasoned veterans and capable newcomers on the roster, the Terps will attempt to find just the right chemistry and balance to hammer away at their opponents in a variety of ways.

INFIELD

For the Terps, there are still some questions regarding how personnel will be shuffled in a very crowded infield.

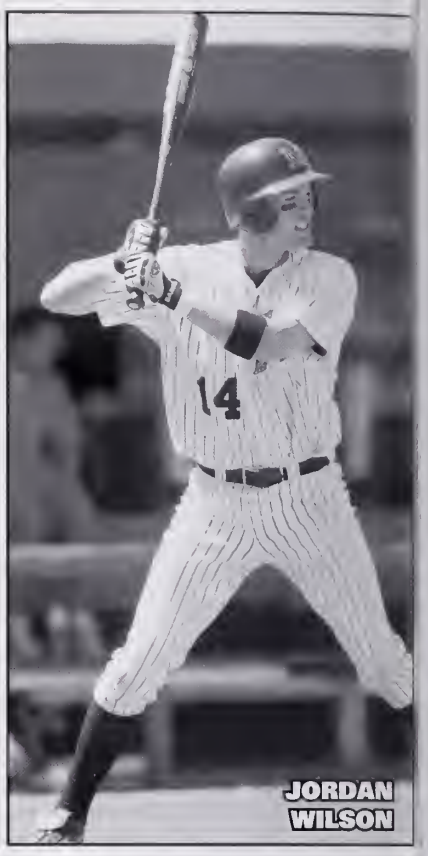
At first base, Maryland returns last season's primary starter in senior Jordan Wilson. In 2005, the Frederick, Md. native put together a career-year at the plate, establishing new career bests in batting average (.301), at-bats (196), hits (59), doubles (11), home runs (3), RBI (35) and slugging percentage (.403) over 50 games. Now in his fifth season with the program, Wilson is a veteran presence in the infield who can lead by example.

Providing Maryland with significant depth at first base will be senior Jason Von Behren and redshirt freshman Gerry Spessard. In his second season with the program Von Behren is a big right-handed slugger who can hit for power. He will likely see extended time in the designated hitter role, as well. After redshirting his freshman year in 2005, Spessard put in a lot of work over the fall and summer and has made great strides, both with his bat and his glove.

Rupp has several options to go with at second base. Junior Dan Melvin and sophomore Joe Palumbo are two possibilities to play what many consider the most demanding position in the infield. After starting at shortstop last season, Melvin could be asked to move to the other side of second base to accommodate new personnel who are more comfortable on the left side of the diamond. A smooth defender with a strong arm, Melvin is one of the most versatile athletes on the club. He is the team's leading returning hitter with a .306 average and will be a sparkplug in the Maryland lineup.

Palumbo is a smart player with a high baseball IQ. In 38 games last year, the switch hitter compiled a .352 on-base percentage and was never caught stealing (four attempts). He figures to play a major role in Rupp's infield rotation.

The shortstop slot could be claimed by sophomore transfer Steve Braun. A 35th round pick by the Oakland Athletics in 2005, Braun is a quick, agile player with good instincts and can hit. He could also be an early favorite to bat leadoff for the Terps. Rupp might also choose to plug Melvin in at short should he decide to use Braun in a different role.



JORDAN WILSON

A pair of freshmen look to handle third base duties for Maryland this year. Newcomers Mike Murphy and Dan Benick have spent time at the hot corner during the fall and both should see time there in 2006.

A product of nearby Georgetown Prep in Bethesda, Md., Murphy brings good speed and a strong arm to the table for the Terps. He hit well during the fall season and is the early favorite to start.

Benick is another rookie who has shown great potential at the plate, with good power to the outfield gaps in particular. He is one of Rupp's most versatile infielders, comfortable at third, second or short.

Should the need to install a more experienced player at third base arise, both Melvin and Von Behren have experience at the position and could step in.

CATCHER

Behind the plate, Maryland will look to sophomore Chad Durakis as its everyday catcher. After splitting starting duties with Bobby Ryan last season, he is ready to carry more of the load in 2006 following a productive offseason in which he spent time fine tuning his mechanics.

"Offensively he's very good and defensively he's continuing to improve on a daily basis," Rupp says. "Chad is a person who has no quit in him."

After batting .286 with 27 RBI during his freshman campaign, Durakis has the tools and natural ability to be one of the best hitting catchers in the ACC. Dedicated to improving his release and receiving behind the dish, he hopes to throw out even more base stealers this year. In 2005, Durakis gunned down nine runners and allowed just two passed balls all season.

Providing relief to Durakis will be redshirt sophomore Dan Mellies and a freshmen duo, Dan Shillingburg and Mike Moss.

After sitting out last season, Mellies has shown major improvement and a knack for calling pitches. Shillingburg and Moss are both tall, strong backstops who will continue to gain experience and learn the position as the season progresses. They will both see game action in 2006.

OUTFIELD

Gone from the outfield are Will Frazier, Truan Mehl and Justin Maxwell, three of the most gifted and prolific sluggers in recent Terp history. Filling their spots, Rupp will draw on a deep crop of talented players that have the potential to chase down anything in their direction and at the same time put up some big numbers at the plate.

In leftfield, senior Brian Jarosinski returns as one of the team's hardest working leaders. In 2004, the 6-foot-3, 200-pounder hit 16 home runs, 58 RBI and registered a .571 slugging percentage. Following a bit of a down year at the plate during his junior campaign, he is poised to return to form and produce big numbers once again.

"Brian looks better than he ever has at the plate right now and I expect big things from him this year," Rupp says. "He's really worked hard and improved his speed and his defense. I think he could have a big year for us."

Manning centerfield will be swift sophomore Nick Jowers. He has exhibited a great nose for the ball and gets excellent jumps on anything hit to the gaps. Arguably the team's best defensive outfielder, Jowers is capable of doing some damage on offense as well. As a freshman, he showed good speed on the basepaths, stealing three bases and legging out the first triple of his career. Rupp will have the option of using him at either the top or bottom of the order.

In right for the Terps is senior Matt Maropis, a converted infielder who will focus exclusively on outfield duties this season. Like Jowers, Maropis is a phenomenal athlete with great speed who can burn an opponent on the bases. In 2005, he led the Terps with 19 stolen bases in 24 attempts and scored 34 runs. Maropis complemented his smart baserunning and quickness with some pop in his bat, as he smacked 13 doubles and two homers on the year.

Freshman Mike Rozak and Patrick "Wink" Nolan will step in right away and provide quality outfield depth. Like Maropis, Rozak is a former infielder who swings the bat well and can play either corner outfield position. Nolan is one of the fastest players on the team and can play all three outfield spots. Both players should see playing time this year, with the ability to make immediate impacts.

Providing even more power in the outfield is junior transfer Jon Greenwich. After stops at St. Louis University and Southeastern Louisiana, the burly right-handed slugger has proven he can hit the long ball wherever he's been. Greenwich could also be utilized at designated hitter.

PITCHING

Heading into the season, the top two spots in the Terps' rotation are set, with seniors Ben Pfinsgraff and Seth Overbey slated to take the hill for crucial ACC and weekend matchups. A third starting spot is still up for grabs with several qualified candidates in the running to claim it.

Returning as the staff's ace is Pfinsgraff, who established himself as one of the best pitchers in the league last season. After leading the team in ERA (3.45) and wins (four), including one over top-ranked Georgia Tech, in 2005, the 6-foot right-hander took part in an arm strengthening program over the summer to improve his stamina and durability. Last year Pfinsgraff lasted at least 5.0 innings in 10 of 11 starts and seems poised to shoulder the load all year for Maryland.

"Ben is a proven pitcher who has shown he can beat anyone in the country," Rupp claims. "We're looking for him to be our number one guy and have a good season for us."

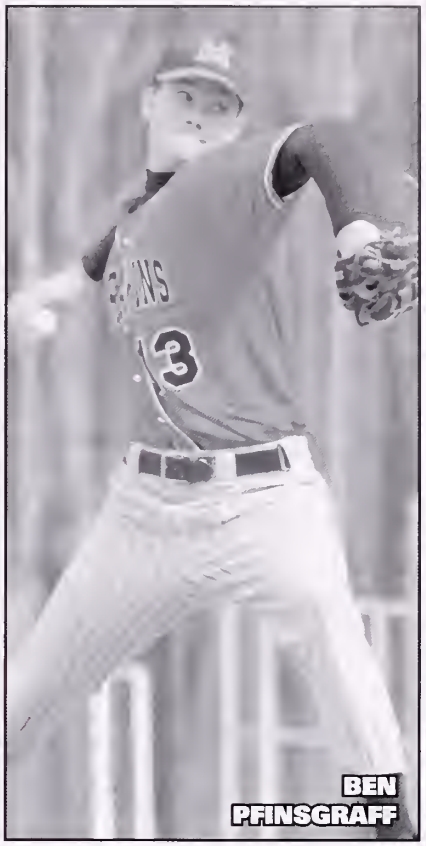
A former relief pitcher, Overbey will make the switch to fulltime starter in 2006. After going 3-1 in 17 appearances last season, he will be asked to log more innings and go head-to-head with some of the most talented pitchers in the conference. To prepare for his new role, Overbey spent time during the offseason developing a changeup and slider. Those pitches, along with his fastball, will give Overbey a strong arsenal to dip into against tough ACC hitters.

Junior Casey Baron and sophomore Brett Jones appear to be the early frontrunners to solidify the third starting spot in the rotation. Baron, a southpaw with experience as a middle reliever, threw well during the summer and fall and impressed the coaching staff with increased velocity. Last season he finished 3-1 with a 3.85 ERA while exhibiting excellent control on the mound.

Jones is another hurler who made great strides in 2005. In a relief role last year, opponents hit a paltry .188 against him, a result of good command and smart pitch selection.

Others who could potentially earn starting nods throughout the season include sophomores Ryan Moorer and Mike Sufczynski.

A former 13th round draft pick of the Chicago Cubs, Moorer is a power pitcher with a live arm who throws in the low 90's. Utilized out of the bullpen last year, he has the potential to become an effective starter. In the meantime, Moorer will continue to gain experience and hone his mechanics in a relief role.



BEN PFINSGRAFF

Sufczynski has the second-most starting experience on the pitching staff behind Pfinsgraff after making nine starts in 2005. With a devastating breaking ball and an effective fastball, the 6-foot-1 right-hander knows how to get hitters out. He tied for the team-lead in wins last year as a redshirt freshman and finished second on the staff with a 3.66 ERA.

Middle relief will be asked to provide quality innings throughout the year, a challenge several talented players seem capable of answering. Lefties Brett Tidball and John Dischert and right-hander Brad Taylor are three arms Rupp and pitching coach Jim Farr can turn to out of the bullpen.

As a freshman in 2005, Tidball allowed just two walks in 13.0 innings and registered a .217 batting average against. He has continued to show signs of improvement in the offseason and will be called upon to retire hitters from both sides of the plate. Taylor made nine appearances last year, including eight in relief, showing good stamina during several outings.

Dischert comes to College Park after a highly decorated prep career as both a pitcher and position player. Named first team All American and Gatorade Player of the Year in the state of Delaware, Dischert was virtually unbeatable in high school. With a great breaking ball and seemingly unlimited potential, he will be thrown into the mix right away.

Another option for Rupp in relief will be sophomore Joe Zaccaria. A flame-throwing right-hander who comes to the Terps following one season at Div. III Johns Hopkins, he has experience as a closer and could become a quality late inning set-up man for Maryland.

Closing out games on the mound will be sophomore Brett Cecil. After seeing time as both a starter and reliever during his freshman season, the intimidating lefty has settled in as the Terps' closer in 2006.

Cecil has demonstrated the acute control required of an effective closer, as he struck out 40 and walked just 13 in 43.0 innings last season. He finished second on the team with 18 appearances in 2005 and could be handed the ball even more this year.

HEAD COACH TERRY RUPP

SIXTH SEASON AT MARYLAND • TAMPA '88

11TH SEASON AS A HEAD COACH

Terry Rupp enters his sixth season as the head coach of the Terrapin baseball team. Since taking over as skipper five years ago, Rupp has overseen dramatic improvements in many aspects of the baseball program. His philosophy of discipline and hard work has helped steer Terp baseball in the right direction as the program works to establish a new winning tradition.

During his tenure as head coach Rupp has shown the ability to teach and develop his players, readying them for the next level. In June's MLB Draft, four Terps were chosen, including 2005 preseason All-American outfielder Justin Maxwell. A fourth-round pick by Washington, Maxwell began his career as a .239 hitter before Rupp molded him into one of the best performers in college baseball.

Last year, the Terps achieved many impressive team and individual feats. Twice in 2005 Rupp and the Terps upset a top-five opponent. On April 2, Maryland beat top-ranked Georgia Tech, 2-1, in Atlanta. A month later the Terps were at it again, upsetting No. 4 Miami, 11-9, on the road. For the second straight season, the Terps earned a victory in the ACC Tournament, beating Virgina Tech on the first day of action.

Several Terps also reached various individual milestones last year. Outfielder Will Frazier finished his prolific career as the school's all-time leader in doubles, extra base hits and total bases. Righthanded pitcher Chris Clem also capped off an impressive run under Rupp, becoming Maryland's all-time leader with 298.2 innings pitched.

In 2004, Rupp guided his Terrapins to several record-breaking performances. His team tied an NCAA record by hitting 13 doubles against UMBC on March 10. Four of Rupp's players (Anthony Buffone, Justin Hulse, Brian Jarosinski and Matt Maropis) moved into the top-10 of categories in Maryland's single-season records book with Buffone breaking the all-time at-bat record. The Terrapins also earned their first ACC tournament victory since 1999.

During the 2003 season, Rupp took a very young group of players and guided them to team and individual success. Despite having five freshmen and sophomores in the starting lineup, the Terps won three consecutive ACC series for the first time since they began playing three-game sets in 1990. The 2003 campaign saw the Terps facing some very tough competition, as they came away with four victories over teams in the top 15.

After adjusting to ACC play in his first season in 2001, Rupp brought home a school record 34 wins in 2002. It marked the first time that a Terrapin baseball team reached the 30-win plateau in a season. That year, Rupp also saw numerous team single season records shattered, including runs, hits, doubles, RBI, strikeouts, and saves.

In the summer of 2002, Rupp took advantage of a unique opportunity and represented Maryland as an assistant coach with Team USA Baseball. Rupp helped guide the team on its summer Red, White and Blue Tour, before helping the Stars & Stripes capture the Honkbal Classic Championship in The Netherlands. Rupp and Team USA then went on to earn the silver medal at the FISU World University Baseball Championship in Messina, Italy.

It is clear that Rupp has the Terrapins pointed in the right direction to be a contender in the ultra-competitive ACC. Rupp and his staff continue to attract talented recruits as they work toward the program's ultimate goals of being a regular participant in the NCAA tournament.

Before accepting the head job at Maryland, Rupp, 39, led his alma mater, the University of Tampa, to a 215-80 (.729) record in five years, including four 40-win seasons. Rupp guided the 1998 Spartans to the program's third national championship with an impressive 46-14 record and was named National Coach of the Year. In 2000 his team was ranked No. 2 in the NCAA Division II poll heading into postseason play. His Tampa teams posted a remarkable 15-5 cumulative record against Division I opposition, including wins over Miami, Oral Roberts, Southwestern Louisiana and Army.

Rupp is a 1988 graduate of Tampa, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in marketing. There, he was a two-time All-South Regional selection and played on teams that made a pair of national championship appearances. He was a teammate of New York Yankees first baseman and four-time world champion, Tino Martinez. He also was a two-time all-conference selection in basketball and a two-time conference All-Academic selection. In fall of 2002 he was inducted into the university's Sports Hall of Fame.

Before college, Rupp was a Parade and McDonald's All-American in basketball after helping lead Jesuit High of Tampa to the 1984 Class 3A state championship. In 1989, he was voted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

Rupp was a 16th-round draft choice of the San Diego Padres in 1989 and played two seasons in the Padres' minor league system. From 1993-95 he was a minor league coach for the short season Class A Oneonta Yankees of the New York-Penn League.

Rupp married his wife Jill in 1999, and they reside in University Park with their two-year-old son Jacob.

CARMEN CARCONE

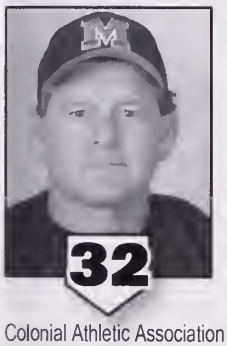
ASSISTANT COACH/INFIELDERS
SECOND SEASON AT MARYLAND
ILLINOIS-CHICAGO '95

Carmen Carcone returns for his second season as an assistant coach for the Terps. Working with Maryland infielders in 2005, Carcone saw several players have career years at the plate. Under his supervision, the team's starting first baseman (Jordan Wilson), second baseman (Elliot Singletary) and shortstop (Dan Melvin) all established new career bests in batting average.

Prior to Maryland, Carcone spent five seasons as the head coach of Division II Dowling College (Long Island, N.Y.), where he built the Golden Lions into one of the premier teams in the Northeast. At Dowling, his teams posted an overall record of 152-82, averaging over 30 wins per season. Under Carcone, Dowling appeared in five consecutive New York Collegiate Athletic Conference (NYCAC) championship games. He also led the school to three consecutive NCAA Div. II regional appearances, including its first ever showing in 2002. In 2003, the Golden Lions captured the school's first ever league title. Twice, Carcone was named NYCAC Manager of the Year.

Carcone has also spent several summers coaching in the New England Collegiate Baseball League (NECBL) and Cape Cod Baseball League. After winning the NECBL Championship in 2002 with the Newport Gulls, he was named manager of the Orleans Cardinals of the Cape Cod League. The Cardinals appeared in back-to-back Cape Cod finals, capturing the championship in 2003. That squad, which Carcone recruited, saw 20 of its 23 players selected in the 2004 MLB draft. Seven of those players were taken in the first five rounds, including two first-round draft picks. In 2002, Carcone was unanimously voted Cape Cod League Coach of the Year.

Overall, Carcone has coached more than 60 players who have been drafted, including three first-round draft picks. He has also served as an assistant coach at Cornell University and SUNY Cortland. Carcone graduated from the University of Illinois at Chicago with a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology in 1995. He later received his Master's in Secondary Education at Dowling College.



JIM FARR

ASSISTANT COACH/PITCHING
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND
PENN STATE '78

Jim Farr is in his first year as pitching coach for the Terps and 21st season in coaching, overall.

A former major league pitcher, Farr comes to the Terrapins from the College of William & Mary, where he left as the school's all-time winningest coach after transforming the Tribe into a perennial Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) contender. In 13 seasons at William & Mary, Farr compiled a record of 373-310-2, including five consecutive 30-win campaigns from 2000-2004, the program's first conference title in 2001 and a school-record 37 victories in 2004.

Farr takes over a pitching staff which returns nine letterwinners from 2005.

His tenure at William & Mary was highlighted not only by victories but by his invaluable contributions to the program, as well. In 1999 he helped spearhead an effort to build Plumeri Park, a brand new 1,000-seat baseball facility on campus. Over the years Farr has helped numerous student-athletes reach the next level, sending 26 players to the pros, including four who have major league experience.

In 1993 he was named CAA Co-Coach of the Year after guiding his club to a 24-19-1 record in his first season at the school.

A graduate of Penn State, Farr was drafted by the Texas Rangers in 1978. He went on to pitch in the Rangers' and San Francisco Giants' organizations for the next eight seasons. An elbow injury would eventually force him to retire, but not before reaching the Major League level, where he served two tours of duty. His best big league season was 1982 when he compiled a 2.50 ERA as a reliever.

Following his playing career, Farr returned to Penn State, where he became an assistant coach for three years and earned his Master's degree in 1988. Farr then went on to spend four seasons as an assistant at Old Dominion.

Farr and his wife, Susan, have two daughters, Jessica (21) and Danielle (19). Jessica plays tennis at Longwood University and sister Danielle plays tennis at Christopher Newport University.

BLAINE BROWN

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND
SAINT MARY '02

Blaine Brown enters his first season as a volunteer assistant coach for Terry Rupp. Brown's responsibilities at Maryland will include working with catchers, hitters, scouting assignments, on-campus recruiting and coaching first base.

Before coming to Maryland, Brown spent two seasons as Jeff Messer's top assistant coach at Slippery Rock University. Brown was in charge of the catchers and hitters along with recruiting for the "Rock." He helped produce two All-Region players and 10 all-conference honorees. Brown helped guide Slippery Rock to a top-five national ranking his last year, as well as a berth in the NCAA Division II Regionals. He also helped supervise Slippery Rock summer baseball camps, as well as his own clinics.

Prior to Slippery Rock, Brown was an assistant at Drexel University, where he worked with the catchers and outfielders. Brown also was involved in camp coordination and recruiting efforts for Drexel. Following his stint with the Dragons, Brown spent time at Brescia University in Kentucky working with the catchers and hitters.

During the summer of 2003, Brown was in Sao Paulo, Brazil working for Major League Baseball. Serving as an MLB International Envoy, his responsibilities included player development, working with their national teams and developing strategies to enhance the level of play for the Brazilian baseball federation. The past two summers, Brown has been head coach for the New Market Rebels, a member of the Valley Baseball League (one of only eight summer leagues sanctioned by the NCAA and MLB). He will be returning to lead the Rebels for a third summer in 2006.

Brown, a native of Richmond, Kan., received his bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Saint Mary in Leavenworth, Kan.

2005 SEASON NOTEBOOK

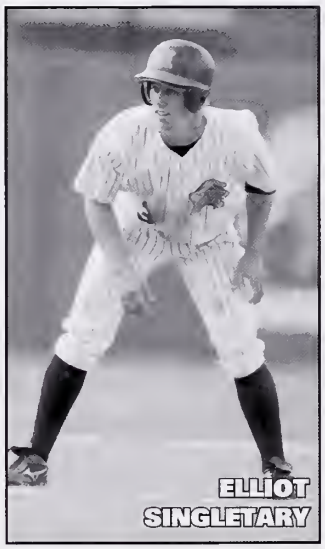
YOUNG TERPS SHOW PROMISE, DEFEAT TWO TOP 5 TEAMS

HOME SWEET HOME

- Following renovations made to Shipley Field prior to the 2005 campaign, Maryland hitters were quick to settle in and establish a new home field advantage. Seven Terps batted over .300 at "the Ship" last season, and 23 of the squad's 35 home runs were slugged there, as well.
- Infielder Elliot Singletary was Maryland's top hitter at home last season, registering a .353 batting average at Shipley. In addition, 17 of his team-best 25 doubles were ripped during home games. Will Frazier, Dan Melvin and Truan Mehl all put up exceptional numbers in College Park, as well, hitting .344, .340 and .338, respectively. Other Terps with impressive stats at home included Matt Maropis (.326), Brian Jarosinski (.318) and Jason Von Behren (.310). Jarosinski's bat came alive at Shipley, as he hit a whopping 173 points higher at home than on the road.
- Not only was the Terrapin offense stellar at home, but the defense performed better there, too. With just 62 errors in 31 home games, Maryland's fielding percentage was 15 points higher (.951) at home than it was on the road (.936).
- Contoured vinyl seats and remodeled restrooms made for a more comfortable experience for spectators at Maryland games, while flags of ACC opponents and a brand new sound system gave Shipley a more fan friendly look and feel. On the field, the additions of batting cages and bullpens gave both home and away teams ample space to warm up, and outfield padding and a revamped warning track made for a safer playing environment.

SINGLETARY SEEING DOUBLE

- Leadoff hitter Elliot Singletary led the ACC and tied for second in the nation with 25 doubles in 51 games last season. It was the second-highest total in school history, trailing only Ken Noe, who hit 28 in 1991.
- Singletary headlined a group of six Terps who each had at least 10 doubles. Truan Mehl finished second on the team and seventh in the ACC in doubles with 20 in 56 games. Will Frazier, the school's all-time leader in the category, had 17. Also among the team leaders in doubles were Dan Melvin (15), Matt Maropis (13) and Jordan Wilson (11).



NO FEAR FOR THE TURTLES

- On Apr. 2, Maryland stunned top-ranked Georgia Tech, 2-1, in Atlanta. Ben Pfinsgraff surrendered one run and five hits over 7.2 innings against one of the nation's top hitting teams and Michael Meagher shut the door, retiring all four batters he faced. Truan Mehl was 3-for-3 and drove in both Maryland runs on a pair of RBI base hits, as the Terp offense left just four men on base. It marked the program's first win over a top five team since May 3, 2003 (8-7, at No. 5 NC State).
- A month later, Maryland pulled off another improbable upset, handing then-No. 4 Miami a loss in the finale of a three-game set in Coral Gables. The Terps scored eight runs over the first three innings and held on to defeat the Hurricanes, 11-9, on May 1. Will Frazier and catcher Chad Durakis each belted three-run home runs and Joe Palumbo had a career-high four hits to fuel the Maryland attack. Starter Chris Clem gave up eight hits and four runs in 6.1 innings to earn the win.

DOWN (IN HISTORY) GO FRAZIER, OTHERS

- Several Terps helped rewrite the Maryland record books last year as they moved their way up the school's career and single season lists in various statistical categories.
- Will Frazier became Maryland's all-time leader in doubles with 60, a record he set in his final collegiate game against Wake Forest in the ACC Tournament. During the 2005 season, Frazier also set new school marks for most career extra base hits, with 94, and total bases, with 404. He also ranks second on the all-time home run (34), RBI (147) and at-bats (794) lists, third on the all-time hits list (242) and fifth on the all-time runs list (148).
- Staff workhorse Chris Clem established a new school record for innings pitched in a career (2002-05) with 298.2. The right-hander made 13 starts on the hill, the most by a Terp pitcher last year and logged a team-high 86.1 innings. He lasted at least 6.0 innings in 11 of his last 12 starts and walked more than two batters just twice all year.
- Truan Mehl moved into a sixth-place tie on Maryland's single season hits list, finishing with a team-high 82. The Overland Park, Kan. native also moved into second place on the single-season at-bats list with 238.
- Infielder/outfielder Matt Maropis ran his way into the record books, as well. After stealing 19 bases in 2005, he raised his career total to 35, which puts him in a tie with Steve Neuberger (1993-96) for seventh on the Terps' all-time list.
- In his rookie season, catcher Chad Durakis proved he was not afraid to take one for the team, leading the squad with 10 HBPs. It was the third-highest single season total in school history.

PFINSGRAFF HONORED

- Ben Pfinsgraff was named ACC Co-Pitcher of the Week on Apr. 4 after beating No. 1 Georgia Tech on the road. The right-hander threw a season-high 131 pitches and held the conference's top offense to just five hits and one run in 7.2 gutsy innings. Pfinsgraff shared the honor with Barrett Browning of Florida State.

MARYLAND
"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."
That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.
Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."
As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."
AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2004 enrollment was 25,140 undergraduate and 9,793 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at non-historically black schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 17) and the College of Education (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 12th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 11 NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate, as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has nov reached $50 million annually and the multi-millior dollar accumulated operating debt which he administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic suppor services provided for student-athletes, with ar enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate o approximately 85 percent for student athletes a Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the last 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005, advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

FEAR THE TURTLE
2006 MARYLAND BASEBALL

- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more than 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Men's Soccer won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and has made four consecutive appearances in the NCAA College Cup.
- Field Hockey won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and continues to be a perennial Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2004-05, 18 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 11 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

DAVE HAGLUND

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Don Pearman (right) works with the baseball team.

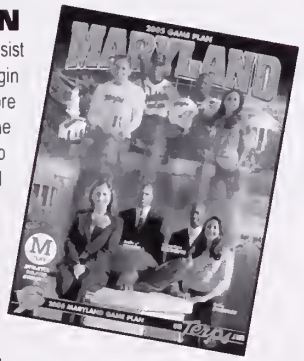
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.
